

Internship Business Development in Potsdam

We are a young FarmTech company, developing an innovative sensor-based monitoring system for dairy farms. Our sensor system allows the farmer to gather the health situation of his dairy cows on a daily basis and to react to deviations in health at an early stage.

For the challenge to advance the development as well as the establishment of the company we are looking for support in our executive board right away. You accompany our CEO in all operative areas and thus gain deep insight into the exciting daily routine of our start-up:

- Planning and preparing the introduction of a program for the participation of co-workers
- Development of marketing concepts and assistance in the implementation of presentations of the product
- Organisation of team workshops and team events

If you enjoy functional, pragmatic work in interdisciplinary teams in a dynamic environment you will surely like our company. You will be working independently, and you may participate in all business sectors.

We provide a flat hierarchy, creative freedom and responsible tasks. A free organisation of working hours and workplace as well as the perspective for a permanent position after graduation.

We are looking forward to meeting you!
